POONTO BARCELONA

A photograph of a modern wooden table. The table has a round, light-colored wooden top with a visible grain pattern. The base is made of dark wood and features a complex, geometric design with multiple legs that intersect to form a star-like shape. The table is positioned on a dark, reflective surface against a dark, textured background. A soft light source from the left creates a subtle highlight on the floor and the underside of the table top.
